democratic success this fall we booster for the whole valley is may say the almost certainty or evident, victory has caused many prominent democrats of the territory to put up their lightning rodsor their friends are doing it in their behalf -for the nomination for delegate to congress. The gentlemen whose names we have seen mentioned in this connection are able conscientious and worthy, and either of whom if elected, would reflect credit on New Mexico in the national halls of congress. They are also men for whom we have the highest regard, personally and politically, and yet, in our opinion, there is only one man that should be considered by the democrats for this honor, and that man is Hon. O. A. Larrazolo, of the city of Las Vegas.

The reasons for our positions in this matter are twofold and we believe both worthy of most serious consideration.

man who stands high in hichosen profession; a ready debator: a graceful orator, and a most genul gentleman who, if sent to congress would be a living refutation of the name of New Mexico and its poeple, particularly that portion of the territory population of Spanish descent. He would wake up the sluggards in the house whose delight has been to tell the people of the union that New Mexico is unfit for statehood, because of the character of a portion of its inhabitants. In him. the representative of a race so bitterly arrangined they would find an opponent worthy of their most skillful attack, and his friends an ally capable of their most honorable support.

The second Yeason, and it is more in line with positive justice than political expediency, is that two years ago, when the democratic territorial convention man ready to be sacrificed--for for sacrifice was apparently what a democratic nomination spelled at that time. However, Mr. tegrity of the people, accepted the honor from his party and made one of the strirring cammajority of the votes, though streets and beautiful trees. the official (2) count in two or the two of these facts, in obedi-lesser sounds. ence to all honor and justice-
